HARDING USING INFLUENCE TO BRING ABOUT A REDUCTION IN FREIGHT RATES AND RAIL WAGES

BY DAVID LAWRENCE
(Copyright, 1921, by Times Pub. Co.)
WASHINGTON, April 7.—President Harding has begun to use the influence of the executive to bring about, if possible, a reduction of freight rates at the same time as wages are cut on the railroad systems of the country. Mr. Harding is not "officially" interfering or forcing his advice, influence or suggestions on either the railroads or their employees, but nevertheless he is mediating in a dispute in whose settlement perhaps depends more the revival of business in America than any other single factor.

Wages Must Also Be Cut

Mr. Harding refers to his efforts modestly as merely seeking information. He is conferring daily with the labor leaders. Next week he talks with the railroad executives. The viewpoint of the shippers of agricultural products has been already presented in cabinet meetings by Secretary of Agriculture Wallace. Consequently Mr. Harding believes a reduction in freight rates is absolutely essential. But the Interstate Commerce Commission whose expert judgment in railroad matters is not questioned insists that it would be dangerous to reduce freight rates unless the railroads cut their "operating expenses," which means, of course, wages, because labor is the largest item in railroad operation today.

Railroad Standards Involved

To reduce wages would be a relatively simple task if there were not involved in the question something else much more vital to both the railroad executives and their men than the revision of the wage scale of this month or this year. It is the ticklish problem of railroad standards and methods of adjusting future wage scales.

Harding Recognizes Delicacy of Problem

President Harding has himself recognized the delicacy of the problem by his method of handling the labor leaders. The railroads for instance insist that now that the war is over each railroad system should deal with its own men while the railroad brotherhoods wish to have all matters of wages adjusted by a national board representing the workers on all systems of the country. The so-called national agreement which covered this method of negotiating on disputed questions was put into effect by Walker in his last days as director general of railroads, a time indeed when it was simpler for the Federal Government to handle all wage questions uniformly with the hands of the brotherhoods. Naturally labor is more powerful if it deals for the men as a whole and with the railroad systems as a unit. Conversely the brotherhoods cannot exert such a powerful influence over their men if the same issues of labor are differently paid in various regions of the country. Their solidarity is affected.

ENTIRE GREEK FORCE IN DANGER

BRITAIN'S QUEEN, IN CAP AND GOWN, RECEIVES DEGREE

Queen Mary in her cap and gown. The degree of doctor of civil law was conferred upon Queen Mary of England recently by diploma by Oxford University. This photo was taken of her as she marched to the Sheldonian theater at Oxford to receive the degree.

PARIS, April 8.—Turkish Nationalists have resumed their advance in the Bursa sector of Asia Minor, according to dispatches received at the French foreign office. Fears are entertained here for the safety of the entire Greek expeditionary forces. The magnitude of the reverse suffered by the Greeks appears to be greater than first supposed, judging from the latest information. Six thousand wounded Greeks are said to be in hospitals in Bursa.

ATHENS, April 8.—Wounded Greek soldiers are arriving in such numbers from the Smyrna and Bursa fronts, that sanitary authorities in this country are unable to care for them properly. Two thousand injured men arrived at Piraeus yesterday and found inadequate hospital accommodations, the institutions being without beds, and equipment and having deficient personnel. Queen Sophie has appealed to the American Red Cross in Paris for nurses and four classes of doctors have been called out by the government. The wounded men are being brought in train cars from Piraeus to this city. Most of the wounds from which they suffer were inflicted by rifle bullets or bayonets. Many women of Athens are leaving to work in the base hospitals in Anatolia.

Lexington Man Killed In Kentucky

BARTONVILLE, KY., April 8.—Jerry White, of Lexington, was shot five times and killed by John Bailey, of Clay county, at the Cumberland and Manchester depot here yesterday. White had just stepped off train. White is a cousin of two White brothers who were killed several years ago. Jim and Rev. Bailey, brothers of John Bailey, were charged with the crime.

NATIONAL GANG OF MAIL THIEVES SUSPECTED

CHICAGO, April 8.—United States investigators probing the theft Wednesday at the Dearborn station of mail pouches containing cash and securities, believed to total more than $500,000, advance the theory that the robbery was one of many carried out by a national gang of mail thieves who obtained advance information of money shipments from postal employees.

In support of their theory, they point to the fact that the robbers sorted a number of sacks on a mail truck at the station and selected only those which contained valuables.

The same procedure was carried out yesterday in another robbery at Sullivan, Indiana, once the home of Postmaster General Will H. Hays, the robbers selecting the sacks containing money, although there was nothing on the pouches to indicate that they contained other than ordinary mail.

Similar circumstances surround the robbery last night by three bandits of a mail truck in Cincinnati.

CONFESSON IN THE ELWELL CASE IS GIVEN CREDENCE

NEW YORK, April 8.—Impressed by the detailed account of the Joseph Elwell murder given at Buffalo yesterday by Roy Harris, former Governor Whitman, who is in charge of the murder investigation, said today he was beginning to take more seriously Harris' alleged confession of complicity in the crime.

Mr. Whitman at first had been skeptical of Harris' story, told Wednesday night after his arrest in Buffalo. This skepticism, it was explained, was due to the fact that the authorities already had received seven different confessions, six by letters and one in person.

It was reported today that Mr. Whitman was making an effort to have Harris brought to this city. Harris, arrested on a forgery charge, signed a statement that he and William Dunham, a friend, were hired, with promise of $5,000 each, to kill the turkman. He claimed that a woman known to him as "Mrs. Fairchild" employed them.

Detention of a New York woman, whose photograph was identified tentatively by Harris as that of "Mrs. Fairchild," was suggested to Mr. Whitman by the district attorney at Buffalo, but Mr. Whitman declined to wait for further developments before taking action.

Queen City Quits New Orleans Freight Service

CINCINNATI, O., April 8.—An announcement was made today that the steamer Queen City, which returned from her second round trip to New Orleans last night, would be withdrawn from that service until there was sufficient business in sight.

The steamer will make tri-weekly trips to Louisville.

4 Supreme Court Justices Eligible For Retirement

Four members of the U. S. supreme court are in a position to take advantage of the ruling that a supreme court justice may retire after 10 years of service, providing he has reached the age of seventy. Chief Justice Edward D. White is seventy-seven and has been a member of the court since 1894. Justice Oliver Wendell Holmes is eighty-one and was appointed in 1902. Justice Joseph McKenna is seventy-eight and has served since 1897. Justice William R. Day is seventy-two and was appointed in 1903.

YOUTH SAYS MRS. KOEHLER SAID SHE SHOT BOYS

WARREN, O., April 8.—Harry Collier, friend of Mrs. Alva M. Koehler, on trial here for first degree murder in connection with the deaths of her two small sons, testified today that as he approached the Koehler home on the day of the killings, Mrs. Koehler rushed out and told him that she had shot the two boys and had wounded herself in the arm.

Collier, who is 17 years old, told the coroner at the time of the inquest that Mrs. Koehler had told him the same story she repeated to neighbors—that a negro had shot her and the children. Today he said he had given this version to shield Mrs. Koehler, at her request. Cross-examination failed to shake his statement that Mrs. Koehler said: "O, Harry, I've shot the kiddies, I've shot myself; my God, what will we do?"

Collier has become a leading feature of the trial. This whereabouts at the time of the killings has been the basis of a two days' battle between prosecution and defense.

Detective Nat Gilen lying sick at his home here, gave a deposition yesterday when court officials and Mrs. Koehler were taken to his bedside. He testified to finding the remains of the two children in the ruins of the burned Koehler home, and said that he found Mrs. Koehler's revolver on top of the bodies.

BRITISH FACE AN UNPRECEDENTED INDUSTRIAL CRISIS

LONDON, April 8.—The intention of the British government to issue an appeal for volunteers for the transport and other essential services, in view of the prospective triple alliance strike was announced in the house of commons late today by Mr. Lloyd George, the prime minister. A royal proclamation would call up the army and navy reserves, he said.

The government also intends to enroll special constables and form a special emergency force for a period of ninety days to protect the police in the execution of their duty, the prime minister added.

LONDON, April 8.—The railway men and transport workers this evening decided to strike in sympathy with the miners Tuesday morning following failure of the reopening of negotiations for a settlement of the coal strike.

LONDON, April 8.—Great Britain today appeared to be face to face with an industrial crisis of unprecedented proportions.

The National Union of Railway men and the Federation of Transport Workers decided to strike in support of British miners, who have been out since early this week.

This brings the entire power of the "triple alliance of labor" into the greatest industrial controversy in England for many years.

Hope that the miners and the owners of coal pits might meet the government officials to discuss means of settling the strike were apparently blasted shortly after noon, when it was announced the miners had refused to meet their employers.

The miners' refusal was because of the stipulation that the return of the pump men and engineers to work should be the first question settled at the conference. The miners' position was that the meeting should be entirely free from restrictions on the discussions.

The government was just as firm in its view that the threatened destruction of the mines by flooding should be first considered.

Thus early this afternoon it came to be known that a deadlock had been reached and that apparently nothing short of a backdown by the government could avert the industrial upheaval. The triple alliance, which has now taken over command of labor's side of the controversy, has a membership of 600,000 miners, 300,000 railway men and 250,000 transport workers. It is the child of Robert Smillie, who has been its president since its formation in 1915, and who recently resigned the chairmanship of the miners' federation.

The leadership of the strike, however, will be in the hands of the younger men who brought about the present situation in the belief that the reduction of wages which the miners were asked to accept would also be forced on the other workers should the miners' strike fail.

The mine owners were in waiting throughout the day to meet the miners and they were still at the board of trade when the news of the break reached them.

Considerable opposition to the strike among the rank and file of the railway men appeared today. The Liverpool union telegraphed to J. H. Thomas, general secretary of the railway men's union, declaring the Liverpool men would not strike unless a ballot of the men favored such action. Similar action was taken by the unions at Alfreton in Derbyshire.

MONTREAL, April 8.—The American Federation of Labor is asked to urge the United Mine Workers of America to refuse to mine coal for export to Great Britain or for use by English ships during the British coal strike, in a resolution today before the executive committee of the federated trades and labor council.

The resolution was referred to the committee at a meeting last night after a stormy discussion. Some delegates contended the British miners were able to take care of themselves, while others declared that American miners should not act as strike-breakers.

The executive committee was instructed to take any action it deemed advisable regarding the resolution without making any further report to the council.

DAVIS' REORGANIZATION BILL OPERATIVE JULY 1; 8 CABINET MEMBERS PROVIDED FOR STATE

Charles' Visit Plunged Hungary Into Cabinet Crisis

BUDAPEST, April 8.—The Hungarian national assembly has adjourned until after Regent Horthy and Premier Paul Teleky have conferred relative to the ministerial crisis, which has arisen as a result of the visit of Former Emperor Charles to this country.

Newspapers of this city have published the manifesto Former Emperor Charles issued, with the government's permission, before his departure from Steinhilfingen for Switzerland.

"I returned to Hungary's sacred soil," the manifesto declared, "because I was unable to live away from my beloved country, and because I was convinced that only the crowned king can restore tranquility and order which is necessary for prosperity."

"The union of Austria and Hungary ended with Hungary becoming independent. My desire is to strengthen that independence. My heart aches at being prevented from working hand in hand with the nation for reconstruction."

"Realizing, however, that my return would involve the nation in insupportable trials I depart, but though in my exile I will devote all my energies, and, if necessary, sacrifice my life for the interests of Hungary."

"I have faith in providence, and the time will come when I can remain in my beloved fatherland. In the meantime I ask the nation to support the regent, who is fulfilling the heavy duties of the head of the state, and whom I could rely to protect the nation's and the king's common interests."

"The manifesto was signed at Steinhilfingen April 2."

COLUMBUS, O., April 8.—Although the state reorganization bill does not become operative until July 1, Governor Davis announced today he would begin at once the selection of eight department heads or cabinet members provided for in the bill.

The administrative code authorizing the reorganization of state departments, which passed the senate yesterday by a vote of 34 to 3, was made an emergency measure which will prevent its being submitted to a referendum unless the supreme court should hold the emergency clause unconstitutional. The emergency clause was adopted by a vote of 33 to 4. Senators J. P. Burke, Lorain county, George H. Bender, Cuyahoga, and Emory, Richland county, Republicans, and Senator James Reynolds, Democrat, of Cuyahoga county, voting against the emergency. All but Emory voted against the bill.

Will Test Emergency In Court

It is expected that suit will be brought in the supreme court to test the right of the legislature to make the bill an emergency. This action, however, will not likely be started until the bill has been placed on final passage and is signed by the governor. The bill goes back to the house for concurrence in senate amendments and can not be taken up until the house resumes on April 18.

The senate also recessed last night after passing the reorganization bill until April 18. In the meantime, the senate finance committee and other committees will continue to work on pending bills.

Governor Davis announced today he expected to select men for cabinet positions after passing the reorganization bill in the next few weeks that they may have opportunity to familiarize themselves with their work by the time the bill becomes effective on July 1.

Eight Directors Created By Bill

The following positions are created under the bill:

DIRECTOR OF FINANCE, to have control over the financial transactions of all departments, offices and institutions except judicial and legislative departments.

DIRECTOR OF COMMERCE, who will have control over the department (Continued on Page Six)

Cleveland Carmen In Wage Dispute

CLEVELAND, April 8.—The controversy over the Cleveland Railway Company's demand for a wage reduction of 20 per cent, and elimination of the "closed shop" clause and other amendments to the working agreement, which expires May 1, will be placed before the 3,400 conductors and motormen by the union officials at two mass meetings here tonight.

The union officials rejected the proposal at several conferences with company officials and offered to accept an eight per cent. cut, which the company refused to consider. It is generally understood that the union officials will ask the men to vote on specific offers to be made to the company. Whether a strike vote also will be taken has not been determined.

At present the carmen receive from 70 to 75 cents an hour. William H. Fitzgerald, of Detroit, international vice-president of the union, is here to advise local officers.

3 BANDITS ROB MAIL TRUCK IN CINCINNATI

CINCINNATI, O., April 8.—Postoffice inspectors and police early today had failed to find any trace of three bandits who last night held up a United States mail truck here and robbed it of three pouches of registered mail. Boarding the truck as it was leaving the Baltimore and Ohio railroad station at Baymiller street, the hold-up men forced Joseph Arlino, the driver, and Walter D. Hubler, railway mail clerk, to drive to a secluded alley, where the two were handcuffed to the steering wheel of the truck, the bandits, using a duplicate key, unlocked the truck cargo door, and carefully picked over sixty sacks of mail to select those containing registered matter. Seeing these, the thieves leaped from the truck with a warning to the handcuffed men not to make an outcry under penalty of being shot, and jumped into a waiting automobile, and escaped.

The bandits were described as being between 20 and 30 years of age. W. F. Diskin, post office inspector in charge, said the work was not that of amateurs, but evidently that of men who knew their business well.

An estimate of the amount of lost mail was uninhabitable because of the fact it was incoming matter from Detroit, and other points and the facts will not be disclosed until a further investigation is made.

The robbery was the first of its kind in Cincinnati.

Tried To Trip Waiters Laden With Dishes

WARREN, O., April 8.—Whether charges and counter charges in the case of Thomas H. Wells, "the millionaire sergeant," who is suing his wife for divorce, will continue into next week was expected to be determined soon after court opened today.

More of the former members of the Wells' company in France, testified yesterday that he was frequently drunk while overseas, and often "came into camp and yelled all night."

An employee of a Youngstown hotel testified to refusing Wells a room one night because he was drunk, and said that Wells amused himself by kicking over the buckets of the scrub women in the hotel lobby.

An employee of the Youngstown Country Club said that Wells often was drunk there, and used to sit at the foot of the stairs catching at the legs of waiters laden with dishes, attempting to make them fall.

MANY THOUSANDS

of Portsmouth's population are engaged in factory and other mechanical work. This indicates Portsmouth's importance as an industrial community—it also emphasizes the necessity of an institution such as THE ROYAL for assisting the workers to save part of their earnings.

Boosting the welfare of Portsmouth people by helping them to save a substantial part of their incomes is the service in which THE ROYAL specializes—and in this it takes special satisfaction.

This institution welcomes small or large deposits and pays 4 per cent compound interest.

New Collector Of Revenue Makes Changes In Staff

The Columbus Dispatch of local interest Thursday said:

Changes in the personnel of the office force of the internal revenue collector began Wednesday afternoon when nine deputy collectors of the staff of retiring Collector Williamson were notified by the new collector, Newton M. Miller, that they would not be re-commissioned. Their commissions expire with that of Mr. Williamson. Collector Miller made the changes known shortly after he was sworn into office Wednesday. The men who will leave the staff are: James O'Rourke, Frank O. Dugan and Kolen Barnett of Columbus; Edward Wilson, Newark; H. C. Scott, Cambridge; Frank Kiteley, Zanesville; T. W. Rayley, Marietta; John R. Lynn, Portsmouth, and Louis Bessing, Marion.

Whether or not Chief Deputy Collector John R. Montgomery would be retained for the present was not announced. He had not received a new commission up to Thursday noon. Collector Miller announced he would make "several appointments" within a few days. Only 18 out of a staff of 70 are protected by civil service, and probably will be replaced by new appointments within the next few months.

Newton M. Miller formally became collector of the Eleventh district at 10 o'clock Thursday, when the transfer of the office was arranged under the supervision of J. R. Van Voorhis, Washington, assistant supervisor of United States internal revenue offices. He made the speech of farewell to the retiring collector and of greeting to the new chief of the office. Mr. Williamson was presented with a handsome, imported snawewood cane by his office force.

Friends here of Mr. Lynn will regret to learn of his leaving the service. He has made a very efficient and capable revenue official and was always willing to assist patrons of his office. He worked eight and day to keep his office in the splendid shape it is in. He has the satisfaction of knowing that his successor will have to be on the job every minute of the time to equal his record of efficiency.

ATTENTION G. A. R.

Bailey Post, G. A. R., will meet in regular session at headquarters, Carnegie Library, tomorrow, (Saturday) afternoon at two o'clock. All members are urged to attend.

BIBLE TEACHINGS ABOUT HEALTH
REV. FREEMAN W. CHASE

Christ came that men might have the "more abundant" life. (John 1:10). He spent a large part of His life healing the sick. He taught His followers to cure diseases. (Matt. 9:1-8) and Matt. 11:2-6). The miracles of healing performed by our Lord Jesus were not merely incidental or secondary to Him. They were rather very essential part of His saving ministry. They are credentials of His divinity (John 14:10, 11). And He promises (John 14:12) "The works that I do shall ye do also; and greater works than these shall ye do."

Not sickness but health is the will of God. The religion of Christ includes the redemption of man's body as well as his soul. The same God who gave us the Ten Commandments gave the laws of health. Sin is a transgression of the law. Much sin is due to gross ignorance of the spiritual laws; even so, much sickness is due to ignorance of health laws. Nature exacts an accurate toll in the "reap what you sow" process. There are certain laws that must be obeyed. The violator of these laws—whether he be because of ignorance or indifference or vice—must pay a heavy penalty. He has sinned, and "the wages of sin is death." In most cases it is sin for one to be sick, and therefore we recognize this the better it will be for us.

Impurity and alcoholism are responsible for a large percentage of sickness and misery. These two cause nearly all cases of feeble-mindedness in children, and almost all the insanity in the world. In New York in one year there were treated 243,000 cases of impurity diseases. In the same year the same hospitals treated only 41,585 cases of infectious and contagious diseases, such as tuberculosis, smallpox, diphtheria, typhoid fever, etc. Six-sevenths of the cases due to vices—yes, the price of vices comes very high, the cost of ignorance is heavy.

Every person is under obligation to care for his body that he may have strength for the service of the King (1 Cor. 6:19).

Unsanitary conditions are responsible for much sickness. People neglect the rules of hygiene with reference to sleep, air, exercise and cleanliness. The historic scourges that have swept over the world are all caused by the minute germs in the body which waste and destroy it. These germs develop filth and are spread by neglect and ignorance.

Prevention of all such scourges as the plague, cholera, yellow fever, smallpox, etc., is possible. Germs of all these may be found in polluted water, infected milk, dirty food, poisoned air, and they may be carried by flies, mosquitoes, fleas and rats.

The sum of the matter is this: That nearly all sickness and disease is due to personal and social causes. These causes can be known and are within our control. Man and society are directly responsible for fully ninety-five per cent of the sickness and deaths that occur.

Let us distinguish between unnecessary and premature death, which comes to so many, and natural and necessary death, which comes to all. The life of man is made for the whole Kingdom of God, and sometime in the will of God man is to be released from the house of clay that he may be clothed upon by his house which is from heaven (2 Cor. 5:1-3). But this translation ought to come to man at the close of a long life; and the casting off of the body ought to be the mere outgrowing of this earthly vesture. But sin and selfishness are here and are responsible for most of the ills that afflict our humanity. Ignorance is sin where knowledge is possible.

Light is shining in the darkness but the darkness comprehendeth it not.

Every unnecessary death is a community crime. The intemperate man commits slow suicide.

The death of a baby is contrary to the will of heaven.

The death rate of a community is a sure indication of the community's conscience.

The churches can create a conscience which will impel people to take thought for the welfare of the whole man—health for his body, wholeness for his mind, and eternal life for his soul.

"The words that I speak, they are spirit and they are life" (John 6:63).

NOTICE

Louis Perry, whose last known place of residence was Chatteroi, West Virginia, will take notice that Mary Perry, has filed her petition in the Court of Common Pleas of Scioto County, Ohio, being cause No. 1665, praying for divorce from said defendant upon the ground of extreme cruelty and that said cause will be for hearing on or after six weeks from the date of the first publication of this notice.

BANDIT SUSPECT HELD
CINCINNATI, O., April 8.—William Thomas, 24 years old, said by the police to be wanted by authorities at Hamilton, Ohio, on a charge of having held up and shot a grocer of that city several days ago, was arrested here early today. Thomas leaped from the second story of his home on Central avenue, almost directly into the arms of Lieutenant of Police Albert Venn.

Blouse Special $5.00

Wirthmor Silk Blouses that reached us this morning have the tremendous style appeal in fabrics that are most desirable, in the shades that are subtly appealing to the discriminating.

The woman who wears a Wirthmor Silk Blouse can feel sure that she has the newest and most serviceable blouse that will meet with most favorable comment in the social and business elements which she frequents.

The four styles depicted here are just a few of them. Ask the sales-person to show you others in either Crepe Meteor, Georgetown or fancy Mignonette.

The ever growing demand for new styles frequently has brought about our association with a manufacturer who gives to us the privilege of displaying these garments as the authorized style center of this city. If you have not worn a Wirthmor Silk Blouse, try one now and we are certain that you will want to add one to your wardrobe frequently.

BEWARE OF CHILlicothe MOTOR COP, HE HAS GRUDGE AGAINST PORTSMOUTH, SAYS VOORHEES

Portsmouth, Ohio, April 8, 1921.
Editor Times—In the hope I may be able to save Portsmouth people some cash and equal amounts of humiliation and inconvenience, I am asking you to allow me space in your valuable publication to exploit the activities of the motor speed officials at Chillicothe. I believe they have a grudge against Portsmouth. Many of our people have been in the habit of spending money in Chillicothe as they pass through, but I am sure they won't do it any more when they realize what Chillicothe thinks of them. Chillicothe, as may be known in some quarters, lies directly to the north of Portsmouth, a distance of some fifty miles. It's an old town—a very old town, as one may see as he passes thru. I believe it was once the capital of the state. Its citizens are still back in the forties, and still have an idea that people should travel by horse and carriage. Anyone, especially from Portsmouth, who happens to own an automobile, even though said auto be a Ford, and who dares drive thru the streets of the town that once boasted of a "Warner House with brass rails" at a speed exceeding a dog trot, is liable to have to accompany the speed cop to the Mayor's office and there help fill the coffers of the city treasurer.

I know—I got mine there Tuesday—and I left enough cash to pay the speed cop's salary for a month—$8.80.

I was on the only street of the town—Paint street. There was not a soul in sight—nothing unusual in that. I am sanguine I was not going faster than 20 miles. I know I wasn't, for nothing in Chillicothe could catch up with any one going at a speeder's gait. The speed cop asked me where I was from, and as soon as I said "Portsmouth" it was back to see the Honorable Mayor. I explained to the Mayor that the street was clear—something, I guess with which he was fully aware, and that I was confident I was obeying the time honored custom of Chillicotheans of driving like a funeral procession. I told him I was from Portsmouth—bingo—not another word—$5.00 and costs for me. I paid up of course, and invited the Mayor and his speed cop to come to Portsmouth and get some ideas as to a real live town.

"Gee-whillikins, ain't he got guts," said the speed cop.

There is no one who is for law on forement any stronger than I. The people of Portsmouth and Scioto county know that I have been backed up when it came to a question of law enforcement. I have been retained in office because to the best of my ability and means I have tried to force law violators before the bar of justice. I have all the respect in the world for those who do likewise.

But I have never attempted to make "fish of one and fowl of the other." I have tried to play my humble part as an officer in a fair, impartial manner. Therefore, no one would find me "sneaking" should I be guilty of willfully violating the laws of the state or municipality. But in the Chillicothe instance, it is a glaring fact that while people who are so unfortunate as to have to live in that burg are allowed all the special privileges they want, Portsmouth people who are compelled to pass through the town are picked up at the slightest provocation. Citizens of Chillicothe told me that it was getting so that any car, outside of those owned by Chillicotheans, would be picked up if exceeding the speed of wheelbarrow in a display window. The speed cop is watching for a chance to earn his monthly stipend and can't get it unless he makes an occasional arrest.

A speed cop from Chillicothe can come down here and let out his machine to 75 miles an hour and run over an innocent child and keep out of the penitentiary, but when a Portsmouth citizen happens to go through the only street in the Ross county metropolis at a speed exceeding that of a tortoise, it's $9.50.

Portsmouth folks are advised to get out and push their autos—only a short way from the east to the west corporation line—and take no chance when going thru Chillicothe. Well named.

They are laying for you up there—you or any one who doesn't live there. So be "careful." Drive slow—very slow—extremely slow. Don't try to show the folks of Chillicothe any speed—Lord, they are still driving ox carts along the canal bed, up there.

As you go thru, watch for the speed cop—he's a bird, a regular birdie. He can readily recognize the exhaust of the only Chillicothe car, and the explosion from an out of town car plays on his ear drum—gee-whillikins, he gets busy. Bless his old heart—eggs and faters for his supper, by Heck.

PIKETON

The Senior Class of the Jackson High School will present two comedy dramas, "Whiskers" and "In the Spring a Young Man's Fancy," at the Piketon Opera House Friday evening, April 15th. "Whiskers" is the story of a young man who finds himself pursued by the sheriff a few hours before his wedding. He finally succeeds in convincing the sheriff that he is not the man for whom he is looking. He then joins his bride who is waiting at the church. "In the Spring a Young Man's Fancy" concerns a young man of amorous disposition, whose "fancy" lightly turns to thoughts of "love," and in unguarded moments proposes to six different young ladies and is accepted by all of them. He very cleverly extricates himself from the embarrassing position and marries one of the young ladies and lives happily ever after. The cast is composed of some of the best amateur dramatic talent in Jackson and the young people have been well trained for their parts. Good vaudeville features will be given between acts. Music will be furnished by the Jackson High School Orchestra. Tickets are on sale at Daily's Hardware store. The admission will be twenty-five and fifty cents.

Mr. and Mrs. W. A. Rhodes were guests of relatives at Sinking Springs, Thursday.

J. B. McConnell, roadmaster for the N. & W. railway, was a business visitor here Thursday.

A lecture on "Centenary Work," illustrated by seventy slides, will be given by Rev. Clyde Kuhn at the Methodist church Monday evening April 11th.

Louis J. Schausell of Waverly was a business visitor here Wednesday in the interest of the Prudential Life Insurance Co.

The ladies' monthly Church Day services were held at the Methodist church Thursday, April 7th. The morning services, which began at 10:30, were devoted to the Women's Foreign Missionary Society. A discussion of a chapter in the study book was given by Mrs. J. W. Cooper and Mrs. Henry Dietrich. A program of work for the summer was decided upon. The meeting adjourned at 11:30 and dinner was served at the noon hour. The Ladies' Aid Society meeting began at 1:30. Plans for work for the coming month were discussed. Children were cared for at the Baby Fold at the parsonage under the supervision of Miss Margaret Markham and Miss Ruth Hill.

Domino Syrup is in favor every day in the year!

Its appealing color and sweet sugar cane taste make it particularly inviting on the table. Try Domino Syrup in cooking—for making sauces—over baked apples and ice cream, in baked beans and puddings. The more ways you use it, the more it will be appreciated by all your folks.

Domino Syrup

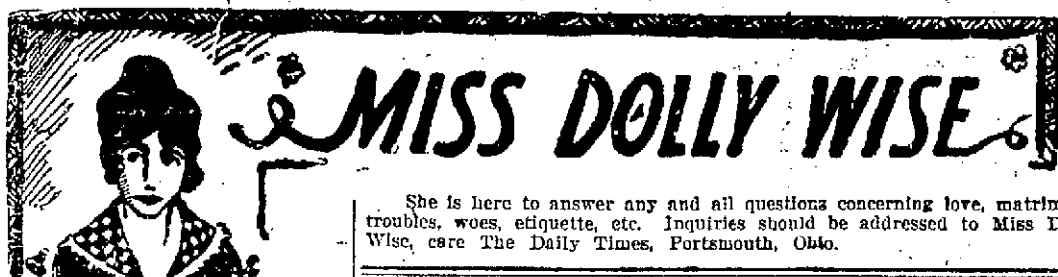

The same large and happy family that makes Domino Cane Sugars makes Domino Syrup. It is a matter of distinct pride with them that every Domino product is the best that can be made. And to achieve and maintain this end, they labor carefully and understandingly. So every woman can have confidence and assured satisfaction when ordering a Domino product from her grocer.

She is here to answer any and all questions concerning love, matrimony, troubles, woes, etiquette, etc. Inquiries should be addressed to Miss Dolly Wise, care The Daily Times, Portsmouth, Ohio.

Dear Dolly—Please answer the following questions: Is it too early for white shoes? And also, what is a good remedy for dandruff? Thanking you for your information, I am,
YOURS TRULY,
HARRY VANLANE.

It is somewhat early to wear white shoes, but if the good weather continues, we shall probably see a good many. Dandruff is hard to get rid of, but there are many good remedies on the market that if used with persistence may be efficacious. For a time the hair should be washed every two weeks, first lathering the scalp so as to loosen the dandruff. Wash in two soapy waters with liquid green soap that can be obtained at any drug-store. Rinse well in several waters and when nearly dry, massage a tonic into the scalp.

Dear Miss Wise—There was a letter in your column last night signed Dead One and I must say he has the same opinion of girls that I have of boys, but he is on the road to successful marriage if that is what he is seeking. There are very few girls now that don't like to be fussed over and there are very few boys that don't like to fuss over them (in fact I thought there were none) but I for one don't like that thing, but if a girl wants to have fellows she has to contend with it, whether she likes it or not. If all the girls of Portsmouth had heard Mrs. Demarest's sermons on love and kissing before you find the girl you really love, maybe they wouldn't kid you about being so slow, Dead One.
EIGHTEEN.

Dear Miss Wise—How old does a boy and girl have to be to get married in the following states without their parents' consent? Texas, Louisiana, boy 21, girl 18; Louisiana, boy 21, girl 21; Iowa, boy 21, girl 18; Tennessee, boy 18, girl 18.

"MAYBELLE."
Texas, boy 21, girl 18; Louisiana, boy 21, girl 21; Iowa, boy 21, girl 18; Tennessee, boy 18, girl 18.

Dear Dolly—Will you please tell me what will take perspiration out of a navy blue foulard dress?
KENTUCKY BELL.

Sponge well with gasoline or chloroform, or clean water with a teaspoon of ammonia to a pint.

Dear Dolly—What do you think of a woman who when you meet her is always talking and bragging on her family, church or club? It is so tiresome and no one ever gets a chance to talk.
CLUB WOMAN.

There are many persons like that, and it seems that they never improve. Of course one wouldn't want to be so rude as to tell her about it, for then one would be in a class with her. I think the best thing to do is to grin and bear it.

Dear Dolly—I am fixing to be married in a short time and I would like for you to tell me what kind of a dress I should get her to be married in, and where we could go to get

BILLY WILKES

"Run along and help catch Billy," said Mrs. West, "for it is almost time for the race in which he is to run."

Violet waited for no second telling, but was off like a bird on the wing. Her mother and friend stood where she had been standing, trying to see who would catch the wily old Billy.

For once in his life Billy was surprised when he ran into Violet and nearly upset her as she unexpectedly appeared at the corner of the old shed just when he was going to run around that end to get away from the men he had been watching, come to catch him.

"Don't be in such a hurry, Mr. Billy," said Violet as she held on to his horns and recovered her breath after the unexpected but he had given her when she appeared so suddenly.

"I am ashamed of you, Billy, to act as you do when every one at the fair is looking for you to appear in the race. Why can't you behave like the others, and stay where you are put?"

While Billy was being led back to the shed where he was to be harnessed and have a fresh run before he raced, Mr. West and Violet went back to the grand stand to watch Fleet for it was her turn now.

Their seats were directly opposite the judge's stand, so they had a good chance to see both the start and finish. There were three four-year-old colts that were entered for this race and it would have been difficult to tell which was the prettiest when they entered the ring with the sun shining brightly on their glossy coats. There was Daisy, a bright bay colt with a white streak down her nose and one white foot; Tomboy, a red roan colt; and asorrel, called Blondine because her mane and tail were so light; while last, but not least, came glossy Fleet. On each colt's back perched a little black jockey wearing cap and sash of his master's colors.

Several starts were attempted before they were allowed to "go," but at last the magic words, "They are off," rang out, and from that second until the end of the race Violet said she knew she did not breathe, she was so excited and afraid that Fleet would not win. At one moment she was up and clapping her hands because Fleet was ahead, the next, silent when Daisy passed her. Then Fleet ran even with Daisy's tail and did not seem to gain a step, then—horror of horrors! the roan was gaining on them both and, yes, he was passing them. What could be the matter with Fleet? Why didn't she run faster and pass Daisy? And now the other two colts were nearly up to her and this did not hurry her in the least.

"Mamma, I shall burst if Fleet don't stretch herself out and run faster."

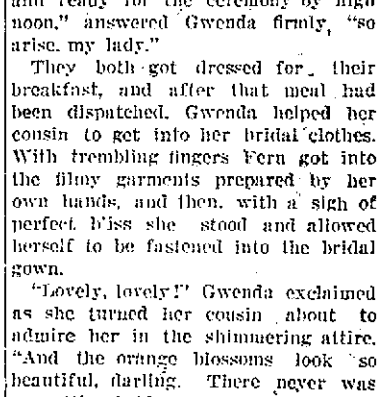

"Don't worry, Violet. Just wait and see what will happen when Fleet gets to the three-quarter-mile post," said Mr. West.

"It will be too late then, Papa. She will be so far behind that she cannot catch up."

"Oh, no, she won't. Cricket is only making her save her strength for the last quarter mile."

(But now you must wait another day to find out who won the race.)

Her Own Career

(BY PHYLLIS PHILLIPS)

THE WEDDING
The day of the wedding dawned clear and beautiful. The two girls awoke with laughter on their lips to greet the first rays of the sun that brought with it a radiant cheerfulness and a realization that this was the day of days.

"Up, lazy bride, up and stirring," called Gwendolyn from her room to her cousin.

A protest was the only answer and she finally made her way into where Fern lay among her pillows, warm and lazy.

"It's nine o'clock already and there's no time to lose so get up and have a cup of coffee with me," said Gwendolyn, shaking Fern by the shoulder.

"Dear me, where am I? What's the matter?" questioned the latter, looking up in a bewildered way. Then stretching her white arms, and remembering, she said softly: "My wedding day."

"Yes, and you have to be dressed and ready for the ceremony by high noon," answered Gwendolyn firmly, "so arise, my lady."

They both got dressed for their breakfast, and after that meal had been dispatched, Gwendolyn helped her cousin to get into her bridal clothes. With trembling fingers Fern got into the flimsy garments prepared by her own hands, and then, with a sigh of perfect bliss she stood and allowed herself to be fastened into the bridal gown.

"Lovely, lovely!" Gwendolyn exclaimed as she turned her cousin about to admire her in the shimmering attire. "And the orange blossoms look so beautiful, darling. There never was a prettier bride, never."

Fern looked at herself and blushed with joy at her own reflection in the mirror. "Do you think that Ferny will like me in this dress, dear?" she asked.

"Like you?" snorted Gwendolyn. "Well, if he doesn't adore you when he catches sight of you now, I give up ever trying to understand any man, that's all. You are ravissant, fresh as the day."

An hour later the guests began to arrive and the flower-bedecked studio was a-lum with merriment. Roses and lilies-of-the-valley were banded against the walls, as the girls had planned, and the sunlight streaming in at the windows turned the scene into a veritable fairy bower. Gwendolyn, in palest coral pink, blitted here and there, attending to last details, like a daisy-eyed angel, herself, and happily humming a little tune that John had loved.

Fern arrived and crushed his bride to him ardently, as his eyes took in every detail of her loveliness, and brought to him a realization of all his dreams.

"My beautiful darling, I can never tell you how happy you have made me," he whispered to her, while they were waiting for the minister to arrive. "Fern, my sweet, I am on my knees before your loveliness. I shall always remember you as you are now—always."

To the happy accompaniment of half a dozen ukeleles the couple walked the length of the studio to where a dais of lilies-of-the-valley had been erected by loving hands. Here amid an impressive silence, Ferny and Fern became man and wife.

The Home League was entertained Thursday afternoon in the home of Mrs. John Eckhart, on Grandview, the members welcoming for the occasion Mrs. Elizabeth Darnell of Dayton, Mrs. Arthur Carey of Bluefield, Mrs. John Eckhart, Jr., Mrs. Arthur Reez and Mrs. Franklin Page. Mrs. Isabel Thomas opened the program with a scripture reading, after which the members responded to the roll-call with the names of juvenile writers. "Child Welfare" was the subject for interesting discussion, led by Mrs. J. D. Jordan and Mrs. Albert Heiser. Mrs. Samuel Crawford favored the company with piano selections, while a pantologue by Elsie Henson and readings by Dorothy Hennessy and Lucille Henson were much enjoyed. During the business, Mrs. Edgar Poffenberger was elected to active membership. Mrs. E. L. Gates, national Y. W. C. A. secretary, presented the problem of the re-organization of the local Y. W. C. A. The meeting concluded with refreshments served by Mrs. Eckhart and her assistants.

Miss Grace Barr of the Schustre-Martin School of Dramatic Art in Cincinnati, will not be here to resume the spring classes at Holy Redeemer School, but will be here for the fall term, the date of which will be announced later.

Mrs. S. B. Timmonds and niece, Miss Marie Ware, of Second street, spent Thursday in Cincinnati and from there went to Springfield to visit with Mrs. Timmonds' parents, Mr. and Mrs. George Linn.

After a beneficent stay at Ashville, N. C., Mrs. C. J. Pierce (Rose Emmett) will leave for her home in Ashland, Ky., this week. Next week, Mr. and Mrs. Pierce will come here to visit with her father, Mr. William Emmett of Twelfth street and other relatives of this city.

REOLO

BUILDS STRENGTH AND ENERGY
Are You Worn Out and Tired at the End of the Day?

To feel weary without having earned it by hard work throws the mind into disorder and confusion.

Too Weary to be Efficient

A hundred people describing their weary condition would each tell it differently. One can't think, another is drowsy, the next feels weak, others are irritable, moody, depressed, apprehensive, as the case may be. This great class of sufferers comes Reolo, one of the greatest reconstructive agencies ever devised for definite accomplishment. It intensifies the activity of the vital processes, provokes increased flesh, stimulates the production of red corpuscles, contributes to the defense of the system against depletion and consequent exhaustion and in many other ways arouses the functional processes to make you feel that something has touched that one flickering vital spark you thought was about to go out in their tracks, to go to sleep at the switch or stand still when the order is to go ahead. If you would really like to get acquainted with your real self get a box of Reolo today.

Your druggist can tell you about the wonderful results from Reolo that he has witnessed.

Your Manners

IT IS CORRECT

To add the name of the person addressed after "Thank you" when expressing gratitude to one whose name is known to you.

To add the name of the person addressed when saying "Good morning" or "Good evening" unless a whole company is included.

When giving a card of introduction, to write "Introducing Miss Mary Blank" in the upper left-hand corner of a visiting card.

To place the card in a card envelope, unsealed, and address it to the person to whom the introduction is to be made.

To write "Introducing Miss Mary Blank" in the lower left-hand corner of the envelope also.

IT IS NOT CORRECT

To say merely, "Good night," or "Good morning" to friends without adding their names.

To say merely "Yes" or "No" to elderly people. It should be "Yes, sir" or "Yes, ma'am."

When giving a card or letter of introduction to neglect to write a note to the person to whom the introduction is to be made, if there is, an unusual request to be made.

Meet me at Nye's Fountain.

The G. P. H. Class of the Second Presbyterian Church was entertained in the home of Mrs. Richard Prince on Spring street last evening. The election of officers was held with the following result: President, Mrs. Hazel Haggis; vice-president, Mrs. Virginia Harsb; secretary, Miss Katherine Smith; treasurer, Miss Gladys Koger. An enjoyable social session followed, during which refreshments were served.

The Central W. C. T. U. spent an interesting evening Thursday with the president, Mrs. C. W. Rowe, on Seventh street. After the regular business, the questions of Daylight Savings and the Curfew Law were taken up. The former question was vigorously protested against while the latter was unanimously voted for.

The next meeting will be held May 6, at the home of Mrs. C. N. Smith, on Eighth street, with Mrs. J. A. Cooper assisting.

Mr. and Mrs. J. C. Foreman and family of Oak Hill, W. Va., who have been spending the winter in Florida, are here for a visit with Mrs. Frank Deaugh of Grant street.

FRECKLE-FACE

Sm and Wind Bring Out Ugly Spots How to Remove Easily

Here's a chance, Miss Freckle-face, to try a remedy for freckles with the guarantee of a reliable concern that it will not cost you a penny unless it removes the freckles; while if it does give you a clear complexion the expense is trifling.

Simply get an ounce of Othine—double strength—from any druggist and a few applications should show you how easy it is to rid yourself of the homely freckles and get a beautiful complexion. Othine is more than one ounce needed for the worst case.

Be sure to ask the druggist for the double strength Othine, as this strength is sold under guarantee of money back if it fails to remove freckles.—adv.

MAKES REPLY TO REV. BUTLER

Portsmouth, Ohio, April 6th, 1921.
Editor The Portsmouth Times:

Will you kindly allow me to say a few words through the columns of The Times to the people of Portsmouth in reference to the letter of

Rev. Butler in which he attacked the undersigned in particular and the Jews in general.

In his argument for the so-called Blue Laws and Sunday closing, he remarks, "By the attacks on Lord's day by certain men, one begins to wonder if everything Henry Ford has written is false."

Now, I wish to tell the Reverend Gentleman that at the meeting at the Chamber of Commerce, no one attacked the Lord's day. At that meeting I told those present that such a meeting could only be justified by sending a petition to the State legislature asking for a repeal of the Sunday laws.

But the Reverend Gentleman in his Christian Charity and Kindness, instead of first finding out the facts, blindly takes up his armour and sword, nay, even his gun, and starts out fighting.

The earliest mark, naturally, from time immemorial being the "Jew," Rev. Butler shoots away at him, and finds the cause of the whole matter in the Jews and insinuates that the Lord's Day is not observed in the Reverend Gentleman's style and manner.

He pays a high tribute to the four Jews present at the meeting by concluding that their influence was felt by the fifty or sixty others present in that they concluded to disregard the Blue Laws.

Now, Rev. Butler be fair and honest and listen to what the Jewish speakers said at that meeting. The first one said that he would like to have a plate of ice-cream Sunday and to be able to buy some in case company came to his home. He did not want his wife or his maid, who, by the way, may want to attend church, to be compelled to remain at home on Sundays and make ice-cream.

The second said he is disappointed that the Mayor had ordered all ice-cream parlors and gasoline stations closed on Sunday and told of having the misfortune to have a puncture on Sunday which he had to have fixed by the New Boston people, as a result of which he paid thirty-eight dollars to a New Boston dealer which should have been spent in Portsmouth.

Does this sound so sacrilegious as to incite the public mind and to destroy all law and order? Reverend Butler thinks it does and this is enough. The Jew is condemned, guilty of breaking down the Holy Blue Laws.

Now I ask the Reverend, why do you shoot from an ambush? Why do you hide your meaning? Say with loud voice in plain language so people can understand you. You doubt the veracity of Henry Ford but since some Jews like to buy ice cream, cigars and gasoline on Sunday, you assume that Ford is right in his accusation.

THE MARKETS

NEW YORK STOCKS

NEW YORK, April 8.—Recent reactionary tendencies in the stock market were again observed at the opening of today's session. The sudden uprush of money rates in yesterday's final dealings and overnight crisis regarding the British industrial crisis prompted further caution. Reading, Royal Dutch and U. S. Rubber were strong, gaining 1 to 1 1/2 points, but other prominent issues were lower by fractions to 1 point. International Harvester and Virginia-Carolina Chemical were especially heavy and Mexican Petroleum, General Asphalt and American Smelting continued renewed selling pressure. The market settled down to its dull routine for the balance of the forenoon, dealings steadily diminishing. Further price changes were mostly downward, steels and minor rails showing increased depression. Crude oil, Lake Superior and Republic Steels averaged 1 point losses, while Harvester and Texas and Pacific lost 1/2 points. Pennsylvania at 33 1/2 reported a new low for many years. Trading was restrained by the grave character of advices from London and uncertainty as to local money conditions. Call loans opened and renewed to next week at 6 per cent, as against yesterday's final rate of 4 1/2. Higher money rates and the critical British industrial situation precipitated further selling in the stock market today, leaders reacting 1 to 3 points. Sales approximated 250,000 shares. The closing was heavy.

Oscar M. Coburn
Oscar M. Coburn passed away at his residence, 1418 Spring street, at 11:30 Thursday morning, April 7, 1921, having completed the first lap of his 77th milestone. He was born in Columbiana county, Ohio, on Christmas day, 1844, and was the sixth child of a large family. His parents, Arthur and Martha Caldwell Coburn, shortly afterward moved to this county and located in Madison township.

While still a mere lad, Oscar Coburn enlisted as a private in the 33rd O. V. I., at the outbreaking of the Civil War, and was made a non-commissioned officer. He saw service also in the First Ohio Heavy Artillery and was later made a first lieutenant in the 3rd North Carolina infantry. He was a fearless soldier and his personal experiences were full of thrills and inspiration to all who succeeded in eliciting from him a recital of them.

In 1867, Mr. Coburn was happily married to Elizabeth Deemer, who with two daughters, Mrs. John Monroe of Harrisonville, Mrs. Will Brown of Stockdale and one son, Ernest H. of the Mount Park Pharmacy, survive to mourn their loss. One daughter, Mary Louella, died in infancy, another, Mrs. John Violet, died only about two years ago, and the memory of Oscar M., Jr., who succumbed to the influenza epidemic two years ago is still green in the hearts of his many friends.

The deceased was a brother of the late Mrs. George Cook and T. A. Coburn, as well as of R. H. Coburn, who now lives at Clinton, Ind.

Mr. Coburn was quite a versatile man, engaging from time to time in various business enterprises in which he was uniformly successful, whether it be farming, milling, merchandising, or contracting.

In politics he was a lifelong Democrat. He knew by heart the party traditions, believed implicitly in them, and took keen interest in every local, state and national question.

He was a model husband and father, a kind neighbor and friend, and a charming man withal to meet. He lived well, was industrious, loved his fellow man, and passed on, Peace to his ashes.

Mr. Coburn was a Presbyterian by faith.

The funeral services will be held from the home Saturday afternoon at two o'clock with Rev. Green Willis, Baptist minister at Minford and community in charge of the last rites. The remains will be laid to rest in Greenlawn.

Lodge News

Enjoyed Social Session
At a well attended meeting of Ell. rose Lodge No. 504, Pythian Sisters last night a very enjoyable program was rendered, the first meeting each month being given to a social good time. The application of Miss Carrie Herrman was favorably acted upon, the program following the short business session. Following is the program as rendered:

Recitation Miss Jane Rose
Solo Miss Esther Guilkey
Piano Solo John Kah
Solo Miss Esther Guilkey
The Butterfly Dance Miss Mary McGuire and Miss Merian Smith.

At the conclusion of the program cake and coffee was served down stairs. Initiation will be held, Thursday, April 21.

Delta Camp Initiates

Three candidates were initiated and one applicant was favorably balloted upon last night at a short meeting of Delta Camp Royal Neighbors. The new members are Mrs. Laura Phillips, Mrs. Clara Flannigan and Miss Clara Worthington. The hall was then turned over to the Blue Bird Dancing Club. A called meeting of the lodge will be held next Tuesday at the home of Mrs. Laura Walker of 1624 Dorey avenue. Plans will be made for a big social to be held in two weeks.

RED PEPPER HEAT STOPS BACKACHE

Concentrated Heat Penetrates Right Down to Pain Spot—Brings Ease at Once

Rheumatism, lumbago, neuritis, backache, stiff neck, sore muscles, strains, aching joints. When you are suffering so you can hardly get around, just try "Red Pepper Rub" and you will have the quickest relief known.

Nothing has such concentrated, penetrating heat as red peppers. Instant relief. Just as soon as you apply Red Pepper Rub you feel the tingling heat. In three minutes it warms the sore spot through and through. Presses the blood circulation, breaks up the congestion—and pain is gone.

Now use Red Pepper Rub, made from red peppers, cost little at any drug store. Get a jar at once. Almost instant relief awaits you. Use it for colds in chest. No matter what you have used for pain or congestion, don't fail to try Red Pepper Rub.

—Adv.

A. I. U. Meets

All members of the American Insurance Union are urged to attend tonight's meeting in their hall at Gallia and Gay streets. Business of importance is to be transacted. District Representative Clarence Corryell will be in Chillicothe tonight attending the 25th anniversary meeting of the Chapter in that city. There will be several national officers at the anniversary celebration.

Eagles Add Five Members

Republic Steel Boosts Prices

NEW YORK, April 8.—The Republic Iron & Steel Co. through John A. Topping, chairman of the board, today announced an advance of $2 a ton in the price of bars, plates and structural steel. Mr. Topping stated that these new prices were made to meet the increased cost of production.

Accepts Call

Rev. J. C. Hancy of Louisville has accepted a call to his former pastorate the First Presbyterian church of Vanceburg. He left that village four years ago.

DON'T FUSS WITH MUSTARD PLASTERS!

Musterole Works Without the Blister—Easier, Quicker

There's no sense in mixing a mess of mustard, flour and water when you can easily relieve pain, soreness or stiffness with a little clean, white Musterole. Musterole is made of pure oil of mustard and other helpful ingredients, combined in the form of the present white ointment. It takes the place of mustard plasters, and will not blister.

Musterole usually gives prompt relief from sore throat, bronchitis, tonsillitis, croup, stiff neck, asthma, neuralgia, headache, congestion, pleurisy, rheumatism, lumbago, pains and aches of the back or joints, sprains, sore muscles, bruises, chilblains, frost-bitten feet, colds of the chest (if often prevented pneumonia), the chest (if often prevented pneumonia), 35c and 65c jars; hospital size $3.00

Have Right To Take Picture

DAXTON, O., April 8.—Right of a newspaper photographer to take a picture of defendants in a police court case was upheld by Judge W. A. Budroe today.

Attorneys for city Policemen Walter Van Dyke and Oscar Glimmer objected to pictures being taken. Members of the department also gathered in front of the camera in protest. Judge Budroe ruled the taking of the picture legal and promised the photographer protection if an attempt was made to break his camera.

The arraigned policemen were charged with violating the Crabbe liquor act by selling whiskey which they confiscated.

TRAINING SCHOOL CLOSES APRIL 12

A meeting was held yesterday afternoon of the Board of Education of the Community Training School for Religious Education, which was organized under the auspices of the local Ministerial Association, some months ago. The members of the Board felt very optimistic over the results of the first semester of the School, which has been meeting every Tuesday night at the U. B. Church, and which will be completed with the meeting of April 12. A partial financial report was made, showing all books paid for and registration fees covered, leaving sufficient funds to cover all indebtedness. Plans were partly completed by the Board for the second semester which opens on the 27th of next September. Miss Julia Nichols, seconded by the Rev. P. C. Wolf, presented the following resolution, which was unanimously approved by the Board:

"After reviewing the work of the School during its first semester, it is the unanimous opinion of the Board of Directors that the text-books used have proved altogether satisfactory aids to the study of the courses taught; and have been used to the best advantage by the teachers, to whom great credit is due for work well and faithfully done."

Ministers To Meet Monday

A special meeting of the Ministerial Association has been called for Monday, April 11, at 9:30 a. m. at the U. B. Church, to confer with Major Winton, representative of the national Community Service, on matters of recreation. Supt. Frank Appel, chairman of the recreational committee of the association has also been invited to attend this meeting. As this conference will be of the greatest importance to all the churches, members are asked to remind their pastors of this appointment, that every church in Portsmouth and vicinity may be represented by its minister.

The Ohio Discount Company

GENERAL INFORMATION

The Ohio Discount Company is organized under the laws of the State of Ohio, complying with all of its requirements and under its supervision, for the purpose of dealing in real estate mortgages and to specialize in all of the various forms pertaining to real estate mortgage transactions, under each feature herein mentioned, such as: purchasing mortgages, financing home buildings, or residences, apartment, business properties, etc. After the mortgages have been acquired, they are offered for sale, and the proceeds of such sales reinvested in other mortgages of like character. The Capital Stock of the Company consists of Common and Preferred, and is exempt from taxation in Ohio, is non-assessable, and dividends are free from normal Federal income tax.

PURPOSE OF ORGANIZATION

This Company was organized because of the great demand for mortgage money. Our Banks and other Financial Institutions have been unable to supply the demand for the past several years in many locations. In certain locations this acute condition has made it almost impossible to build homes, apartments, or other buildings, which are so necessary to the healthy growth of the city or location where such condition exists.

DIVIDENDS

Cumulative dividends on the Preferred Stock, at the rate of seven per cent (7%) per annum, payable quarterly in January, April, July and October; and on the Common Stock, when and in such amounts as declared by the Directors of the Company, at regular dividend paying periods. The Common Stock participates in all the profits of the Company after payment of the dividends on the Preferred Stock.

PROFITS

The profits realized from the transactions of mortgages result from the discount at which real estate mortgages are purchased, and the commission charged for making such loans, and then after the mortgages have been acquired they are offered for sale, and the proceeds of such sales reinvested in other mortgages of like character.

SAFETY

The Company shall, at all times, maintain real estate mortgages to the amount of 110% of the outstanding Preferred Stock of the Company, and insurance to the amount of 75% of all insurable property, as required by our charter. Real Estate mortgage investments are regarded as one of the safest of all investments, and money received on Stock subscriptions is invested at once in mortgages at a required discount. The money you have invested in the Company is represented by Stock subscription agreements, or Stock certificates, but lack of either are the mortgages where the money was carefully placed, and secured thereby.

STOCK VALUE

A proportionate amount of the Common and Preferred Stock is being offered for sale. The Preferred Stock at the par value of $100.00 per share and the Common Stock at par value of $10.00 per share, subject, however, to advance in price without notice. Purchasers of Preferred Stock shall be entitled to secure an equal number of shares of Common Stock, until a limited amount has been subscribed.

PURCHASE OF STOCK

The Stock may be purchased by paying cash or under what is known as our "Savings Plan" upon payment of part cash and the balance to be paid monthly, quarterly, or by special arrangement. Subscribers to Stock under our "Savings Plan" shall participate in all dividends on all installments paid in, so that the Company does not discriminate between the money paid on Stock subscriptions, and Stock fully paid. No interest shall be charged to the subscriber on the unpaid balance due the Company under this plan.

EXEMPT FROM TAXATION

The Common and Preferred Stock of the Company is exempt from taxation in Ohio, is non-assessable, and dividends are free from normal Federal income tax. The value of these exemptions is too often overlooked by investors in the purchase of bonds, and other securities.

A safe and secure investment is guaranteed. For further information and terms see, or write

Attention Members Of The Chamber Of Commerce

On Saturday, the usual cards will be sent to you on which you signify your intention of attending the forum luncheon of the Chamber of Commerce. The ladies of the All Saints' Church, who are to furnish the lunch, April 14, are guaranteeing a splendid meal and complete satisfaction on your part. From the minute Mrs. Samuel B. Timmonds opens the community sing to the close of the Red Cross program, you will no doubt be interested. Mother Red Cross is yet busy the world over. Her activities in Scioto County are not so well known to you as they should be.

The chairman of the Executive Committee, Mr. O. E. Rieker, will preside over the program, which will follow the singing.

Under the direction of Miss Maude Campbell, the Junior Red Cross members of McKinley school will give a short demonstration of their work. Miss Nancy Johnston and her assistants will show how the Red Cross gives nursing service to the county. He prepared to ask any question regarding the work which is puzzling you, during the 10 minutes allotted to rapid fire questions and answers.

Mr. Royal Clyde Agne, once associated in work in the Polish settlements in Chicago, with Rev. D. C. Boyd, associated with the Red Cross in Syria, now Assistant Director of Rural Service in Lake Division, will be the only out-of-town speaker.

The Red Cross asks at this time neither money nor service—it only wants you to know well how it ministers to those needing it. The usual 75 cents per plate, however, will be charged by the ladies of the church for the meal that is served.

SOCIETY

The committee in charge of the re-servicing of seats for the Paul Althouse concert on Monday night, April 11, at the High School, wish to state that if persons who have lost their season tickets will call at the Chamber of Commerce Monday morning at 10:00 o'clock, they will be taken care of.

MRS. ALAN JORDAN, Chairman.

The C. C. Club was entertained last evening at the home of Miss Norma Muller on Seventh street. The members enjoying the meeting were Mrs. Lorla Cunningham, Mrs. Clarence Fisher, Misses Jennie Dodge, Esther Muller, Anna Putzak, Mabel Hasselmann, Clara and Mabel Wiget. Miss Mabel Hasselmann will entertain the next meeting.

Mrs. Anegline Holland of Eighth street was hostess of the meeting of the West Portsmouth W. C. T. U. meeting Thursday afternoon when the members showed much interest in the work of the Bureau of Community Service, of which Miss Emma Hubert told. Topics concerning the work of the W. C. T. U. were discussed and the hostesses served refreshments.

The Worth While Girls of the First Baptist Church are asked to remember the W. W. G. meeting on Monday evening, April 11 at the home of Miss Pearl Nagel at New Boston. An interesting program has been arranged and it is hoped that every member will attend.

The marriage of Miss Verma Manley and Mr. Willard Hoskins was quietly solemnized at eight o'clock Thursday evening at the home of the bride's parents, Mr. and Mrs. S. P. Manley, on Seventh street. The Rev. Charles R. Oakley officiated in the presence of the relatives and a few intimate friends, who later remained to extend congratulations to the newly wedded couple.

The bride's becoming frock was fashioned of white beaded georgette and net with dainty accessories. Her matron of honor, Mrs. Kitty Dunham, wore a dress of dark blue georgette, embroidered in beads. Mr. Ollie Manley, brother of the bride, served as groomsmen.

Mrs. Hoskins has been employed in the business office at the W. A. Lepper store until recently when she prepared for her wedding. Mr. Hoskins is the son of Mr. and Mrs. John Hoskins of Beckley, W. Va., and came here last November to take his position as assistant manager of the S. S. Kresge store. The young couple are residing with the bride's parents at the corner of Seventh and Lincoln streets.

After the ceremony a brief reception was held, the house being decorated for the occasion in pink and white, with a profusion of spring flowers. A cousin, Mrs. Wood Hitt, of Maysville, Ky., was the only guest from a distance.

After a visit to old friends and relatives here, Will Q. Adams has returned to his home in Toledo.

Mr. and Mrs. A. L. Hammond of Columbus are visiting Portsmouth relatives and friends.

The dance and card-party given last night at the Auditorium by the Order of the Eastern Star was a decided success, the committee in charge being very pleased with the result of their efforts for an entertaining evening. Over one hundred couples danced or spent the time with cards. The Brumfield Orchestra furnished the music for those who danced. The committee included Mr. and Mrs. Oscar Brunner, Mesdames Fred Lilley, Earl Hannah, Charles Massie, Albert Uhl, Leonard Plymale and Messrs. Will Schilling, Earl Brandel, John Shaw and George Koerner.

Mrs. Huston Williams of Mound street received the Martha Washington Club Thursday afternoon for five hundred. Following the game luncheon was served at the card tables to Mrs. Louis Dunn, Mrs. Howard Doerr, Mrs. Jack Hartlage, Mr. aPul Stockham, Mrs. Ralph Swadner, Mrs. R. C. Spangler, Mrs. Earl Rheinfrank and Mrs. Frank Miller, and guests, Mrs. Walter Gabm, Mrs. Oscar McClure and Mrs. C. C. Wise. Mrs. Louis Dunn of High street will be the hostess of the next meeting.

After a visit with local relatives, Mrs. Ida Becker left for her home in Cleveland today, accompanied as far as Columbus by her daughter, Mrs. George Watkins, and daughter, Georgine, of Twelfth street.

The members of the Friday Sewing Club spent a congenial afternoon today with Mrs. Hayden Bush of Second street. After a pleasant time with needlework, a delightful buffet hour was spent over the tempting refreshment course served.

Mrs. Henry Atlas has returned from a visit to relatives in Knoxville and Chattanooga. She was accompanied home by his daughter, Mrs. Hazel Goodman of Chattanooga.

The W. H. M. S. of Trinity will meet Tuesday, April 12, at 2:30, at the home of Mrs. Emma R. Stehly, 1257 Eighteenth street. The assistants will be Mesdames W. E. Mann, Harry Mathiot, H. T. Rehnicker, Joseph Carlin, Agnes McCall, J. F. Taylor, James Newland, James McMillen, T. G. Vaughters and Miss Clementine Sikes.

Mr. and Mrs. Louis Hurlb were hosts Thursday to Father Cornelius Schneider, of Pomeroy. Father George Grossen, of Gallipolis, and Mrs. Hurlb's father, Mr. August Desider, of Columbus.

Mrs. C. W. Brooks of Highland avenue was hostess of an informal meeting of the Merry Twelve Club Thursday afternoon. An ice course concluded the meeting. Mrs. Dallas Lemon of Fifth street will receive the members for the next meeting in two weeks.

The choir of Second Presbyterian Church will meet for rehearsal this evening, the pastor's choir at 6:30 and the senior choir at 7:15.

The Home Guards of Trinity Church will meet Saturday afternoon at 2:30, at the church.

After an delightful week with Mr. and Mrs. R. H. Duwendek of Twentieth street, during which they enjoyed greeting many of their former friends, Rev. and Mrs. John Wirt Dunning left today for their home in Kalamazoo, Mich.

THIS MAN'S NERVOUSNESS AND STOMACH ILLS BANISHED

W. H. Howd Reports Rich Blessings
Conferred by Nerv-Worth

"I was unable to get a good night's rest on account of my nervous condition," said Mr. Howd, who resides at 217 Mission St., Flint, Mich., "and I have found Nerv-Worth very beneficial. I have taken 2 bottles and I am greatly improved. I also recommended Nerv-Worth to a neighbor who was in bed with nervous headache. She had taken only part of a bottle, and yet is able to be up and around the house. I for one can cheerfully recommend Nerv-Worth to those who are afflicted with nervous troubles." In this case Nerv-Worth went straight to the source of the trouble and results were speedy, and this is the custom with Nerv-Worth. Quick results and entire satisfaction have been secured from Nerv-Worth in cases of nervous afflictions or their attending ills, such as stomach trouble, or run-down condition, give Nerv-Worth a trial. Fisher & Streich sells Nerv-Worth in this city, and it is kept in stock by all leading druggists everywhere. All of whom are authorized to refund your money if you are not pleased after you have taken your first bottle. — ADV.

Mitzi's Beautiful Complexion

That marvelous actress, Mitzi, now appearing in "Head Over Heels," is famous for her beautiful complexion. She attributes her wonderful skin to the daily use of a simple home made combination of oatmeal and dermole. There is nothing like it for a poor complexion or to keep a good complexion at its best all the time. It takes the place of face powder, stays on better, as perspiration does not affect it, and it instantly beautifies any complexion. One application proves it. If you want a white, healthy skin with rosy cheeks, get a bottle of dermole today; you will be delighted. Dermole is sold at all up-to-date toilet counters. — ADV.

Singing—Mrs. Hattie Gerding. Instrumental Duet—Maureta Sikes and Gertrude Moulter.

LIVELY FRENCH FARCE

AT SUN THEATRE

Wanda Hawley in "Her Beloved Villain" Pleases Big Audience

Having another man propose to your girl has always been an amusing, and dangerous, situation since the days of Trissilla, Miles Standish, and John Alden. When the incident is handled with the brilliant wit of the French it assumes even funnier proportions. "Her Beloved Villain," which opens at the Sun theatre tonight for three days, makes an ideal starring vehicle for vivacious Wanda Hawley. As the French "Trissilla," she does work that is entirely different from either "Miss Hobbs" or "Food for Scandal." It demonstrates that the Reelart favorite is a comedienne of real versatility—not doomed to continue for life in just one set role.

"Her Beloved Villain" is not the original name of the piece. Reelart has long held that "the story's the thing," and they purposely produced this play under the new name. It is really a very famous French farce which had a tremendous vogue a few years ago. Its plot is so basically funny that it will undoubtedly score a success of its own, aside from that made on the speaking stage in both Europe and America.

Kimsey Wallace, the leading man, is a new face in Reelart pictures. He displays a virility as Paul Birthe, the American doctor who plays "John Alden," that made a distinct hit with last night's audience. In fact, the entire cast is unusually excellent and carries the humor forward at a high and uproarious clip. E. Templeton Powell was the cautious Frenchman who asks his American friend to propose for him! Tully Marshall and Lillian Elliott are excellent as usual in character roles.

Sam Wood directed the piece and Alice Eytan wrote the scenario.

Heading—Boss Turner.

The next meeting will be held in Millbrook Park.

Mr. and Mrs. Charlie Jones are having a new home built in Long Meadow. Mrs. Nourse, of St. Cloud, Florida, is visiting his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Leo Nourse.

Mr. and Mrs. Earl Reynolds and children shopped in Portsmouth today.

Court House

Socks Divorce and Alimony
Alleging cruelty and neglect and declaring that he brings moonshine whiskey into their home and treats his friends, Edna Workman, 944 Front street, seeks a divorce and alimony with custody of their minor child, in an action instituted in common pleas court Thursday against Edward Workman, employed by the Standard Supply Company, whom she married November 11, 1917.

Through Attorneys Blair and Blair, the plaintiff in her bill of complaint says that Workman has cursed and abused her, assaulted and beat her and declares he has gambled and otherwise squandered his earnings to the neglect of herself and child. She further claims that the defendant has for a long period of time been in the habit of staying out at night and coming home intoxicated. Besides, she says, he has been guilty of misconduct with other women.

An injunction was granted by Judge Gilliland in the absence of Judge Thomas, enjoining Workman from occupying the home at the Front street address, from molesting his wife in any manner and trying up his funds in the bank.

Wife Sues Divorce
Elizabeth Tubor, 3014 Furnace, charges neglect and cruelty in her suit for divorce and alimony with custody of their minor child, filed in Common Pleas court Thursday against Ernest Tubor, 2018 Fifth street, whom she married March 23, 1914, in this city.

In her petition filed through Attorney T. C. Beatty the plaintiff alleges that Tubor has failed to provide for her and their child and says that she has been compelled to support herself by washing and ironing. Besides, she complains, that he has

LIQUID FIRE

A liquid fire to the bedbugs, ants, roaches and fleas is what the new chemical discovery really is, although there is no danger of damage to be done by using it in your springs, furniture or clothing. The new chemical is known as the Peck's Devils Killer. It costs 25c, but this few cents will have the power of ridding your house of bedbugs, ants, roaches and fleas. If you purchase P. D. Q. P. D. Q. is used and recommended by the leading hospitals and railroad companies as the safest and quickest way of ridding the pesky bedbugs, ants, roaches.

Special Hospital size 25c—makes five gallons—your druggist has it or can procure it for you or sent prepaid either size to your address or receipt of price by the Owl Chemical Co., Terre Haute, Ind. The success of P. D. Q. has caused imitations to have been produced, peddling an imitation, Genuine P. D. Q. is never peddled. Sold by Fisher & Streich and Flood & Blake, druggists.—Adv.

Stop Tobacco

Stop tobacco for a month and see how much better you feel. You can stop without suffering any inconvenience or feeling the usual craving. Simply get a box of Nicotol from any druggist and use as directed and the habit quits you. Your health will be better, your resistance to disease will increase and you will cease to be a slave to nicotine. Read what Dr. Conner, formerly of the Johns Hopkins Hospital, says about the evil effects of tobacco in an article soon to appear in this paper. Nicotol is dispensed by all good druggists in this city.—Adv.

cursed and assaulted her frequently during their married life, declaring that on one occasion last February he drew a razor across her throat. By reason of his alleged cruelty and misfraternization, the plaintiff says there is now separation between them and the defendant is employed by the Hurlison-Walker Brick company.

Suit on Note
Suit to collect a balance of $432.50 alleged to be due on a promissory note was brought in Common Pleas court Friday by George Butcher against Troy Wheeler and Shude W. Walter, Minford merchants. The action was filed through Attorney J. T. Micklethwait.

Given Another Chance
Jay Gambill, 2111, Sixth street, was before the probate court Friday to meet a charge of neglecting his six minor children but after hearing the evidence Judge Gilliland gave the defendant another opportunity to care for his children on his promise to take them to the country.

Will Hear Special Docket
Judge Will P. Stephenson, of West Union, will arrive in the city tonight and Saturday will preside over a session of Common Pleas court in the hearing of a number of cases on the special docket, including the suit of Melissa Wollom against Anna West and others, involving title to a house and lot on Gay street, near Front.

Attorneys Miller and Seel represent the plaintiff and Attorney George M. Osborn will appear for the defendants.

Charges Neglect and Cruelty
On the grounds of cruelty and neglect a divorce and restoration to her former name of Callahan is sought by Garret P. Black, 2500 Gallia street, in an action instituted in Common Pleas court Friday against Anthony M. Black, formerly of this city, now located at 332 East Fifth street, Dayton.

In her petition filed through Attorney Theo. K. Funk, the plaintiff says they were married Jan. 21, 1920, and then alleges that during a greater part of their married life, especially the past eight months, Black beat and assaulted her, threatened to kill her and accused her falsely of associating with other men. In fact, she claims, he has carried on a trade of abuse toward her as to endanger her health and destroy her peace of mind. Besides, she further declares, he refused to work and failed to support her, preferring to spend his time in idleness.

Sale Dog Tags On Increase
The activities of Gene Ketter, of fielding dog catcher, the past few days which resulted in a score of arrests has greatly stimulated the sale of dog licenses at the county auditor's office by persons anxious to get within the pale of the law by buying tags for their pets before the officer gets them.

More than 100 tags were sold Thursday and half that many were disposed of Friday morning.

Visitor From Jackson
Robert L. Grimes, former Common Pleas Judge of Jackson county, who in his retirement from the bench last February resumed the practice of law at Jackson, was in the city Friday on legal business.

Marriage Licenses
Willard Hopkins, 23, assistant manager Kresko's store, city and Verna Manley, 20, bookkeeper and stenographer, city. Rev. Charles R. Oakley, Clarence Craft, 24, showworker, Pullerton and Mary Lozier, 24, showworker, city. Rev. William Lawhorn.

NOTHING COMPLICATED ABOUT THAT

BY C. A. VOIGHT

OUTLAWS ORGANIZING OWN TEAM

CHICAGO, April 8.—Three ousted members of the White Sox club, who were released because of indictments in connection with the 1919 White Sox-Cincinnati world's series scandal, are organizing a team of their own, with the object of playing clubs not in the major leagues, with George K. Miller, an investment broker, associated with other brokers, in backing the scheme, it was learned today.

The three players are Joe Jackson, former outfielder, Charles "Swede" Risberg, former shortstop, and Claude Williams, former pitcher. It is stated that two other former members of the White Sox club, Fred McMurlin, third baseman, and Oscar "Happy" Felsch, outfielder, will also be included in the line-up.

Another player, Joe Gedeon, formerly with the Washington and St. Louis Americans, is also expected to join. In addition to those named, Miller said that three other former big league men would be included.

Stage Old Time Boxing Show

SAN FRANCISCO, CAL., April 8.—Jimmy Britt and Eddie Hanlon, one time challengers for the light-weight boxing championship, are still "first-class fighting men."

A crowd at an "old timers" boxing show, held here last night for the benefit of an Irish relief fund, voted them that. The two put on the snappiest of nine, three-round bouts. Jack Welch, widely known in boxing circles, was referee. Jim Griffin and Tim McGrath, who boasts that he was one of Sharky's handlers, were seconds for Britt and Hanlon, respectively.

Colley Is In Real Training

Webb Colley is in real training for his bout with "Red" Young in the Auditorium next Monday night. He will face a good tough boy and expects to be in the best possible shape. Colley is a big favorite here and no doubt the fans will be pulling for him to win. He is fast and aggressive and will give Young a real battle.

There will also be an eight, round semi-final and two closing good prelims.

Carpentier Posts His Forfeit

NEW YORK, April 8.—George Carpentier's $50,000 forfeit money guard, antedating his appearance in a ring with Jack Dempsey on July 2, has been deposited in a local trust company vault, it was announced here today by Tex Rickard, promoter of the bout.

Rickard added that he had been informed by Carpentier's manager that the French heavy-weight would arrive in this country the first week in May to begin training.

New Boat May Arrive Saturday

The news was given out Friday, that barring unforeseen delays, the excursion boat which Captain John Davis recently purchased and which has been undergoing an extensive remodeling at the Point Pleasant docks, would be here not later than Sunday and perhaps Saturday. The boat will be placed in the local trade and Captain Davis hopes to do an extensive excursion business. The boat, which will likely be named as the result of a local contest, will comfortably carry 800 passengers. A large dance parlor, suitable to accommodate 350 people, has been installed and everything necessary for the convenience of passengers has been properly attended to. The boat, according to Captain Davis, is one of the prettiest and trimmest crafts on the Ohio and one of which he is justly proud.

It will be used on Sundays for regular trips between Portsmouth and Coney Island. A landing will be made at the island, placing passengers within fifteen feet of the entrance gate. It is now thought that Coney Island will be opened on April 24, when Shultz's Stars will play the Russell, Ky., team.

Manager Shultz is expecting his new uniforms to arrive this week. He has gathered together a strong team and expects to have some great attraction for the fans at Coney Island this season. The grand stand is rapidly approaching completion. When it is finished it will accommodate 1500 people, while the bleachers will hold at least 500.

The people of Russell, who have great faith in their team, are coming down on the new excursion boat to a guaranteed number of not less than 1200, and will bring along practically every inhabitant. The mayor of Russell has been asked to pitch the first ball.

Manager Shultz has announced his Stars will play a practice game with "Shorly" Mason's aggregation on Sunday afternoon. These two teams met a couple of weeks ago and Shultz's club was an easy winner. The game will be free to all, and will start at 2:30 o'clock.

To Play On Wednesday

A change has been made in the date for the Digelow Specials-Beaver high school game and instead of being staged next Tuesday night will be played in the local high school next Wednesday night, April 13. On account of the inability to secure the high school gym on Tuesday night, a change had to be made in the date as both teams want to play on the high school court.

Both teams have made fine records this season and no doubt a big crowd will be on hand to witness the battle sure to result when these two quints meet.

Webb Is After Match

Young Webb, Dayton's sensational lightweight has written to Promoter E. D. Voorhes, of this city for a bout in Portsmouth. He is a rattling good fighter and he may be matched with Jack Shepard, of Cincinnati. Oh boy! but this would be some scrap.

REAL SLUGGERS

The Detroit Americans, in their sojourn through the southwest, in five games so far this week have hit sixty safeties, including ten home-runs. Cobb, Heilmann, Veach, Blue, Woodall made circuit drives. Cobb and Heilmann hit two each yesterday at Tulsa, Okla.

Are Sold To Little Rock

COLUMBUS, O., April 8.—Announcement of the sale of Bob Bescher and Henry Boll, of the Columbus baseball club of the American Association, by Manager Rowland to the Little Rock club was received today from Little Rock. Boll, an infielder, formerly played in the Pittsburgh Steel league. Bescher was an outfielder.

An unconditional release was given "Cy" Barger, veteran pitcher, Rowland announced. The Senators will play the Nashville club of the Southern Association today.

Some Line Up

Manager Duggins, of the Yankees, has announced the following batting order for the opening of the season: Fawcett, Peckinpaugh, Ruth, Meusel, Pipp, Rodie, Ward and Schang. Elmer Mays or Shawkey will pitch the opener.

Reds Come Back

The Reds came back to life in great shape yesterday and whopped the Indianapolis team 10 to 1. Luque and Rixey were in fine form, the Hoosiers getting only five hits.

SMITH GETS DECISION

NEW YORK, April 7.—Midget Smith was given the referee's decision over Jack Sharkey at the end of a 35-round boxing match here last night after the judges had disagreed. Smith weighed 118½ pounds and Sharkey was a pound heavier.

THE STRANGENESS OF TRUTH

IN the days of our budding manhood, when opera bouffe raged on the stage we used to be puzzled how anyone could conceive such grotesque impossibilities as were paraded for the delectation of the audiences.

Opera bouffe, according to the rules always had to have a high and mighty monarch and a retinue of lords and ladies, who performed many frolicsome follies.

Years have shown us, however, that not even footlights have ever shown anything as improbable as occur in real life. For instance could anything be conceived so fantastic as the adventure of ex-King Charles into Hungary, last week, or could another de-vice set all events awry?

Not accoutered so much as with a gilded spear and tinsel armor, Charles rode into Budapest one day and announced he had come to assume the crown. Immediately all the great statesmen were thrown into confusion fits, the war implementers began to clank and hot haste the cable belted around the earth that another crisis was at hand and all the great war was fought for was again to be submerged in red horror.

But, lo the sun had not set before Charles was backstepping it to the border in charge of a few village constables. There he was either opportunist or inopportunist taken ill and governments continued to wobble, statements to wiggle and crises to arise, for a week. Then Charles still rudely urged by the six village constables, but surrounded by a glittering array of noble gentlemen and ladies took his way back to the hospitable confines of the tiny oasis of Switzerland.

It was execrably stupid, but of such is the world entertained these days.

WORK FOR MANY

MANY people are out of work and the pinch of hardship is beginning to be felt here and there. But that is true of the cities and towns only. Farmers are begging for help and little is forthcoming. The trouble seems to be that men are willing to remain idle, for a time, at least, hoping for employment at their former occupations, rather than change their environment from city to country. But the drift back to the land has started, according to trustworthy figures, and those who a few months ago were dolefully forecasting the time when abandoned farms would force starvation upon the nation will have to take a less dismal view of the situation.

The truth is that many people who now live in towns and cities would be far better off in the country, even with less actual money. Work on the farms is more constant than in the cities. The farmer cannot stop producing because of low prices or unfavorable markets, which means that he always has a certain amount of work that has to be done.

New-York-Day-By-Day

BY O. O. McINTYRE

Westward Ho!—Flagstaff, Arizona, looks like it might have been built for Bill Hart or some cowboy of the wild western thrills. The main street is along the railroad tracks and one may view the Bright Angel Cafe, the combination bank and hotel, the Parlor Pool Hall and the Red Gulch Hotel.

Wild looking dogs, with a wolf strain, flock in packs to the coast trails and stand outside the diner howling for food. They never fail to get a hand-out. Then they trot back through the town to the hills to sleep. New Yorkers think of Chicago as west. I don't know where the west begins, but I would fix the line at La Junta, Colorado.

At La Junta a sun-burned native stood outside the baggage car and peered in. "How does your bound 'stand travel'?" he inquired. "I wanted to resent the bound inhumanity but I remembered the tales of tenderfoot who were made to dance to bull-lets and replied in my best silk voice.

"I'm thinkin' of goin' East and take my two bounds—Drum and Ruger—with me," he ventured. I asked what part of the East he expected to visit. "Tunka, Kansas," he replied.

"He was a sociable fellow and before the train pulled out wanted to know if I would give him the loan of a 'shaw of pluz' cut." He had run out of eating tobacco that morning and was evidently suffering.

At Wagon Mound, New Mexico, we were joined by the Broadway Elite Trainers, numbering six—two blondes, a juvenile, a tragedian who used snuff and two veteran tank actors. They were on their way to Oita to present "Jim's Revenge." They carried two trunks and a back drop. I saw no evidence of stage door Johnnies following the blondes.

The station at Albuquerque is picturesque. Indians in native costume meet the trains to sell rugs and pottery. Baggage masters dread the town. Our train took on two wooden boxes. The health-seekers through the station platform hoping for a familiar face. They are pitifully lonely and make any excuse to engage in conversation. One from the East asked me if it was true that Doctor's had closed. "I used to have some good times there," he said. And he wistfully watched the train out of sight.

I am wondering what a New York subway guard would do if he had to wrestle with some of the names out here. This afternoon we passed through Gila, Canyonville, Los Cerillos, Elota, Nueva, Bernalillo and Algeudres.

At Gallup, N. M., all of the passengers complained of a buzzing in their ears and slight dizziness. Even veteran trainmen never get over the effect of the high altitude. The chef who came out of the kitchen for air was so dizzy that he staggered. He has been coming over the road for fifteen years. He confided to me that the reason they called it Gallup was because folks wanted to "gallup" through the town, and I never saw a man so appreciative of his own humor. He fairly roared with mirth. He laughed just as heartily for it was nearing dinner time and one can never be too friendly with a cook so far away from home.

Fatty Arlenckle mounted the engine cab to ride through the mountains with the engineer from Williams to Ash Fork. He wanted me to go with him and promised some "beautiful scenery." But Fatty's green great coat and cap satisfied my desire for "beautiful scenery."

We are going into the sage brush on the fringe of the Arizona desert. The villages are all adobe built with doors of bright colors and the Indian children wave at the train. One can see horned cattle skulls bleached white. After all, Broadway is a mighty fine old lane.

TOPICS OF THE TIMES

The Sibley Service, Gallipolis, Ohio
By W. G. SIBLEY

The Boze Rebellion
Most of the big cities of the country harbor rebellion to the prohibition amendment and laws for its enforcement. That was to be expected. The appetites and habits of generations cannot be destroyed in a day or a year. It will be a great achievement if a generation sees the disappearance of desire for alcohol.

Large cities provide opportunities for violation of all kinds, and always have a profitable market for unlawful indulgences. Isolated instances of law breaking in small communities and country neighborhoods become organized professional enterprises in big cities. Prostitution is a common example of this fact, and we need not be surprised that traffic in alcohol is another.

Political success in cities revolves around the exploitation of human appetites and passions, and nullification of constitutional amendments and federal laws is no new thing under the sun. So long as votes may be won by law enforcement of liquor laws, rebellion against them will continue. But those who favor the great reform need not despair. It has made extraordinary progress already. The mere fact that all distilling and brewing must be clandestine, that selling is hazardous, helps amazingly. And there is another fact fighting for law and order. It is the mounting cost of alcoholic drinks. Already they are prohibitive for all but those willing to strip their purses to get them.

Hundreds of thousands who would be drinking habitually at bars and at home, have ceased because of its high cost. More will quit for the same reason. The economic phase of the liquor question is doing valiant work for the greatest reform since the abolition of slavery.

Scarcity of Doctors

Matriculation requirements of medical colleges are said to be the cause of acute shortage of doctors in many parts of the country, and not the retirement of many thousands of them after the extraordinarily prosperous "flu" years, when physicians and undertakers enjoyed unprecedented financial gains.

The country boy who used to enter medical college after leaving high school can no longer get in. He must take an expensive general college course first, it is said. Certainly something has checked desire for medical careers, and the "country doctors" are disappearing.

No intelligent man would regret a higher educational standard for physicians, but the healing art, if its follower is able to grasp the fundamentals of anatomy and physiology, and to absorb a certain amount of medical lore, depends on something no college can give a man, which is good common sense. Country doctors for generations have had an abundance of it to offset urban uncommon sense, which has not always been successful in the treatment of the sick.

It is true that the country doctor seldom has the refinements of his profession, but barring surgery, where science is absolutely essential, the common sense country physician does commonly avail with the fevers and other ills which come to his area of jurisdiction. If he can recognize a surgical condition and send such cases early to hospital, he can be and is of immense service in checking and curing general disease. He does not require a classical education for that.

Control of Floods

The control of river floods has long been sought, and Dayton, Ohio, which suffered enormous loss from a Miami River flood eight years ago is putting through a gigantic engineering scheme to control that wild river.

Two thousand years before Christ a Chinese engineer, Ta-hu, did the same thing to the great Hoang River, a task which required thirteen years. It was accomplished by building coffer dams and dykes. On the Miami and also on the Mississippi, the plan of impounding the waters in vast reservoirs has been adopted. Ecology says.

Prof. Einstein, apostle of relativity, is in America, one of the long line of famous men from Europe who never regard their education as complete until they have studied this country. We presume the Professor will lecture while here, and a lot of dabblers will be enthusiastic over him who could not shut their eyes and give a comprehensive definition of "relativity" to save their lives. We'd be in the list of flunkers.

The consideration shown Debs has not met with the general approval of the public, which continues to regard confessed and convicted criminals as dangerous. Debs is called a "political prisoner." He is not.

Prohibition may not be a complete success, but back a former brewer or distiller or saloonkeeper in a corner and he will make signs of distress when you ask him about it.

Q. Before prohibition went into effect, how much corn was used in the manufacture of liquor? W. E. H. A. For the year ending June 30, 1918, there was used in this country 24,650,225 bushels of grain to make distilled spirits in the United States. Of this, 35,943,000 bushels were corn.

Q. What would be a good cleaner for a blue enameled bedroom suite? T. J. B.

A. There is no better means of cleaning colored enameled furniture than to wash it in lukewarm water, drying each part perfectly by rubbing briskly as fast as it is washed. This method is as safe as it is simple. It leaves the polish absolutely unimpaired.

Q. What is the value of a dime bearing the letter "S"? Y. S. L.

A. There is no premium on United States dimes bearing the letter "S." This letter is simply mint mark and indicates that the coin was made at the San Francisco mint.

Q. Who said "Patriotism is the last refuge of a scoundrel"? D. C.

A. "Patriotism is the last refuge of a scoundrel" is from Boswell's "Life of Samuel Johnson." Q. We have had a great deal of discussion over the plural of "crocus." Would appreciate your advising in your column. P. R. H.

A. The English plural of "crocus" is "croci."

Q. Who discovered Rochelle salts? I. M. C.

A. Rochelle salt was discovered in 1662 by a La Rochelle apothecary named Seignette. It occurs, when pure, in colorless, transparent prisms, generally eight-sided.

Q. When were hard-time tokens issued? C. C. H.

A. Hard-time tokens (Jackson cents) were the size of large copper cents. They were issued from 1834 to 1841. They were mostly copper, although some were made in brass. There were about 100 varieties of these tokens.

Q. Do plants have nervous systems? L. G. M.

A. The Department of Agriculture says that plants do not have nervous systems in the same sense that animals do. It is interesting to note that there are some species of plants, however, which appear to respond to certain stimuli.

Q. Which animals hibernate? How do they exist during their period of hibernation? M. C. A.

A. Among the mammals which hibernate are the bear, dormouse, badger, bat, and hamster; a number are incomplete hibernators, as the prairie dog, while squirrels fall into a winter sleep during the coldest weather, but may be seen in warm spells in winter. The period of hibernation varies with different animals and with the climate. Continuous hibernators do not lay in a supply of food, as do intermittent ones like squirrels. During this period the animal functions are nearly suspended.

Q. What is the population of the world? J. S. W.

A. The population of the world in 1918 was approximately 1,698,000,000.

If all the days are like summer, with the sun shining bright. If all the nights are starry and the moon sheds its silver light—Then what would we do for raindrops when it's time to plant our flowers. What would we do on hazy nights, without the dark and its wonderful powers?

Now, if all the days are rainy, and we get the doggone blues, If all the nights are dark as pitch, and the moon we cannot view—How could we be happy while each mortal has a grouse?

How would we find our way home at night, if the moon and stars aren't out?

Of course, this may sound silly, friends, but isn't it the truth? If that were this and this were that, we'd still find some reproach. So why not take things as they come and leave these things alone. Although this world is very small, its meaning causes many grouses.—By An Inspired Soph. S. H. S.

Time For Correction

"Say," said the frate visitor, "you had something about me in your paper that has gotta be corrected."

"If the item was wrong," the editor smoothly replied, "we shall cheerfully do as you request."

"I told one of your reporters I saw a beautiful goldfish perching on a twig just outside my bedroom—"

"Well—"

"And when the item came out in the paper it read 'gold fish.'"

Boy Held Here
At the instance of the Tronton authorities a lad named Dwight Tiller, aged 15 years, was taken into custody Friday by the police and lodged in the city jail where he is held pending the arrival of an officer from the upriver city.

The youth, who was found at a house at 2215 Robinson by Officer Schroeder, is alleged to have stolen a bicycle at Tronton and later traded the bike for a boat in which he floated down the Ohio river. It is said the boy was forced to abandon the boat before reaching here because the craft started to leak and he walked the rest of the way.

Bogus Money Order Is Passed

Lehman Brothers, Chillicothe street merchants, learned this morning that about a week ago they had been victimized for a round hundred dollars by a post office swindler on a rather elaborate scheme.

The fellow, who gave his name as J. C. Tierney, appeared in town Friday and looking up Oscar Mantle, local manager of the Fleischmann Yeast Company, introduced himself as a former employer of that company. Here for the purpose of buying a bakery, inviting Mantle to dine with him at the Washington Hotel. As they left the hotel Tierney casually observed he had a money order for $100 in his pocket and wanted to know what hour the post office closed. He was told 6 o'clock, and as it was past that hour, he said, it was too late, but he must have some fresh underwear and may be some merchant would cash the order. He was taken to Lehman's and there bought $14 in wear, tendering the money order. The clerk half joking asked if it were good and Tierney quickly replied here is Mr. Mantle, he knows me and can identify me. Mantle said he could not as he was a stranger. The order was taken, however, and passed by the firm to its bankers, who turned it in to the post office. According to the regulations, Smithfield Ltd., where the order was passively drawn on, Peoria, Illinois, was notified it had been cashed. Smithfield sent word back that the order was a forgery, being made out on forms stolen from that office about a month ago.

While here Tierney either to make his play good, or as a basis for further fraud, carried out his pretense that he was here to buy a bakery, opening negotiations with the Ziegler and Adams companies. He even had the audacity to go to the first firm a number of times, telling it on the last visit that he had closed for the purchase of the Adams plant.

Walks In Sleep; Falls Out Of Window; Is Painfully Injured

Walking in her sleep has been a habit with Miss Myrtle Stumper, about 20 years old, who is staying at 301 Second street, but heretofore she has not met with an accident. About midnight Thursday she climbed through an open window and fell from the second story to the stone pavement, about twenty feet below. She suffered a small cut on the top of her head and a lacerated shoulder.

She and a friend, Miss Elizabeth Craycraft, retired about eleven o'clock. About midnight Miss Stumper fell out of the window. It was about one o'clock when Miss Craycraft was awakened by Miss Stumper trying the door and calling to let her in.

Miss Stumper does not know how she got out of the window, whether she fell from the sill or hung to the sill and dropped. In falling her head just missed a stone step, her shoulder striking the edge of it. A pool of blood by the step showed where the top of her head hit the sidewalk. On gaining her feet and still in an unconscious state she walked back up stairs and tried to get into her room. Her attempt to open the door failed and she called to Miss Craycraft to let her in. It was about an hour later before Miss Stumper regained consciousness and then she wanted to know what was taking place and what had happened.

All differences between members of Local Union No. 175, I. B. Electrical Workers and the contracting electricians and firms were adjusted Thursday afternoon when the contractors, who journeyed returned to their various jobs this morning.

City To Get U. S. Health Station

Dr. Joseph S. Rardin received word Friday morning from the treasury department at Washington that a district headquarters of the United States health service for world war soldiers will be established at Portsmouth.

The office will be one of considerable importance as it will be one of twelve for the state of Ohio and a consolidation of the local branches in all the various counties in this section. It will have a staff of two permanent physicians and a stenographer, with three part time doctors.

Members of the regular physicians will receive salaries somewhere between $2,000 and $3,000.

THE QUESTION OF SUNDAY OBSERVANCE

This subject will be discussed at Sunday, April 10, church convocation and City groves, Sunday evening at 7:30 o'clock by the pastor, Rev. P. C. Wolf. It is one in which the people of Portsmouth are greatly interested at the present time. Should there be one day of rest in seven? If so, what? What is its sanction? What day should be observed? Why? These questions will be answered by the pastor. A cordial invitation is extended to the general public and all who are interested in the present issue.

RAIN HALTS ARBOR DAY PLANS

Annual Arbor Day exercises in the public schools were interfered with by the rain today. Some of the schools held their interior programs while all schools had to postpone their tree planting ceremonies until Monday. Some grades postponed their programs until Monday.

New Offer On Repairs Expected

PARIS, April 8.—It was stated semi-officially here today that a fresh proposition on reparations was expected from Germany. Unconfirmed reports are in circulation that the Germans are making another effort to interest the United States in the question by negotiations between Karl Bergmann, German under secretary of the treasury, and Roland W. Bogden, formerly American unofficial representative with the allied reparations commission. Mr. Bogden, however, now is in Vlonon, on his way to Constantinople, it is understood.

Nothing is known in official circles of a reported invitation to the allies and Germans to meet in Washington to discuss reparations, and it is declared here there is little likelihood of such procedure being favored by the allies. The present expectation is that the allies will issue an ultimatum to Germany on the expiration of the time limit set for the payment by Germany of 20,000,000,
